

PhoneJoan your partner in time

It had been one of these weeks. At the weekend when my parents were visiting our dishwasher had packed up, a day later our car broke down and I needed it fixed as well as a hire car in the meantime. At the same time our house went on the market but the dishes were still piling up in the kitchen, the lawn needed cutting and I had just started my own business. Stressed? Definitely! No time to do anything? Absolutely!

Do you find it difficult to juggle a demanding job and a hectic home life? Do you sometimes wish that someone else could just make that pile of ironing disappear? Or do you find that there are so many things that you have been meaning to catch up on for months but there just does not seem to be a spare minute in the day?

Then PhoneJoan is the answer to all your prayers. With her unique skills and style as well as personal and flexible approach Joan seems to have found a cure for all our hectic lives.

"I started out in business wanting to help people improve their quality of life ."

With so many people complaining they never have time for themselves or never seem to get on top of things, Joan set up her lifestyle management company 3 years ago. Since then PhoneJoan has been going from strength to strength and now has 130 clients on her books.

"I started out in business wanting to help people improve their quality of life. Lifestyle Management is a concept still relatively new in this country and basically means having someone take on those things that you don't have time for, don't know how to do or just don't want to do! And in the process giving you more time to spend on things you enjoy, whatever it might be in life." Joan explains.

And there is no end to Joan's talents: beside the obvious chores such as organising your domestic cleaning and ironing, she can help with sourcing or managing anything or everything in your life. PhoneJoan can find you a reliable tradesman, tend to your garden, stock the fridge before you get back from holiday or even plan a romantic weekend away; get theatre tickets that nobody else can and help out with your business needs, too. There is really no request that will phase Joan.
